

Lesson 1: Parts of Speech

In English grammar, parts of speech are categories that describe the role each word plays in a sentence. The main parts of speech include nouns, pronouns, verbs, adjectives, adverbs, prepositions, conjunctions, and interjections. Understanding these categories helps learners build clear and meaningful sentences. For example, a noun names a person, place, or thing, while a verb expresses an action or state of being. Adjectives describe nouns, and adverbs describe verbs, adjectives, or other adverbs.

Lesson 2: Sentence Structure

A sentence is a group of words that expresses a complete thought. English sentences typically follow a Subject–Verb–Object structure. For instance, in the sentence 'The cat chased the mouse,' 'The cat' is the subject, 'chased' is the verb, and 'the mouse' is the object. Complex and compound sentences allow writers to connect ideas more effectively.

Lesson 3: Tenses

English has three main tenses: past, present, and future. Each tense has four aspects—simple, continuous, perfect, and perfect continuous—resulting in twelve total forms. Mastering tenses helps learners express time accurately. For example, the present perfect tense describes actions that happened at an unspecified time before now.
